Coach Stepanian Makes Address —Superintendent Thomas L. Pollock, In Behalf of Athletic Council, Presents Members of Classes With Medals

This morning in the High school auditorium the annual "Athletic Morning" was held. The program consisted of the presentation of basket-ball and track letters to the girls by Coach Miller, the presentation of the silver loving cup won at Washington last week by the girl's track team. Jean Wilson made the presentation in a very able manner. Dr. Lively accepted it in behalf of the school.

Following the girls of the basket ball team were awarded gold and silver basket-ball charms, those winning letters receiving gold charms and two other members of the squad who came very close to winning letters were awarded silver charms. These were the ifrs of the athletic Council in reward for the fine showing made during the past season.

Coach Stepanian then presented the members of the boy's basket-ball crack team with their letters. In the course of his address the coach pointed out that the showing made by the track team this season has really been good and promises to be much better next season.

Superintendent T. L. Pollock, in behalf of the Athletic Council, presented the members of the mid-year and present graduating class who had distinguished themselves along the line of athletic endeavor, with gold medals. This being an annual custom at the local High school. Prof. Pollock congratulated the student body, faculty and members of the team for what he called a very successful season, both financially and from the viewpoint of games won.

Faculty Manager of Athletics, D. W. Copeland, gave a talk on football prospects for the coming season and announced the tentative 1924 football schedule. The announcement of the schedule was received with enthusiasm. The schedule as it now stands is probably the most ambitious attempted by the local High school in years. Should Charleroi go through this schedule undefeated there could be no question raised as to whether it was a hard schedule or not. A hard schedule generally produces a hard fighting team, as Glenn Warner's teams have proved in the past. The schedule reads as follows:

Sept. 27.—Penna. Training School at home.

Oect. 4.—Homestead High School, at home.

Oct. 11.—Rochester High School, at home.

Oct. 18.—Monessen High School, at Monessen.

Oct. 25.—Washington High School at Washington.

Nov. 1.—Waynesburg High School at Waynesburg.

Nov. 8.—California High School at home.

Nov. 15.—Open.

Nov. 21.—Monongahela City High School, at Monongahela City.

Nov. 27.—Donora High School, at Donora.

Students who received awards this morning are as follows: Girls Basket Ball Team, Letters and gold Basket Ball Charms—Captain Blanche Cratty, Captain-elect Gladys Allsopp, Thelma Phillips, Jean Wilson, Catherine Allen, Mary Sonkoly, Dora Parks, Isabelle Gray, Ruth Murphy, Lyda Belle Woodward.

Silver Basket Ball Charms—Mary Irose, Elizabeth Terbush.

Girls' Track Team—Thelma Phillips, Lyda Belle Woodward, Anna Bruce, Marjorie Carson, Jean Wilson.

WAVERING SENATORS MAY DECIDE THE BONUS BILL FATE

Washington, May 16.—The outcome of the president's clash with congress over the bonus depends upon the effort [illegible] upon some wavering members of the senate, it was evident today.

The house will sweep the veto aside in a vote tomorrow and the Senate will take up the question early next week. Today both bonus advocates and administration pressure upon a little group of undecided senators whose are needed to override the vote if it is to be over-ridden. The result in the senate probably will not be known very far in advance of the actual voting.

Mon City Vets Plan For Memorial Day

Starkweather Post No. 60, Grand Army of the Republic, Monongahela, has turned over the active duties in connection with Memorial Day observance to the veterans of the Spanish-American war and to the Frank Downer post of the American Legion [illegible] of Starkweather post that it will not have charge of the observance of Memorial Day.

At a meeting of the post held Monday evening, this action was decided upon. It was pointed out that there are only 23 veterans of the Civil War [illegible] only four of whom are active. All of the others are incapacitated by reason of advancing years, or are at soldiers' homes. The active members realize that the task of preparing the usual program for the observarce of Memorial Day is too great for them to perform.

Starkweather post is one of the best-known Grand Army post organizations in the state, and quite a number of Civil war veterans, comprising towns along this valley were members in years gone by. At one time its roster was composed of hundreds of veterans, but time has taken its toll, and the roll has been reduced until there remain only a few members.

One of the last ceremonies under their immediate direction will be held Sunday evening, May 25, at 6:30 o'clock. With members of the Ladies auxiliary of the G. A. R., the veterans will proceed to a point in the center of the river bridkge at Monongahela, where they will hold memorial services in honor of the sailor and marine dead. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the post, accompanied by the Ladies' auxiliary, will proceed to the Methodist church, where the ministerial association of the city will be in charge of the evening program.

BELIEVED KLAN ARE AGGRESSORS; EXCHANGE SHOTS

Pittsburgh, May 16—Swooping down on a band of gypsies, who were camped on the West Penn road near West Homestead, 50 men dressed in the regalia of the Klu Klux Klan early today routed the nomads after a number of shots were exchanged between both sides.

County detectives are unable to learn whether anyone was injured. Shortly after midnight a number of men gathered on the hill side about 30 feet above the camp. A high cross was burned on the summit of the hill, and when [illegible] failed to scare the nomads the hooded men charged the camp firing a number of revolver shots. The report of pistols spread a panic among the gypsies, who returned fire. Breaking through the guard, which surrounded the invaders demanded the gypsies to move. After gathering together the many women, children, dogs and other paraphanalia, the nomads left the vicinity followed by the masked men for three miles.

PUPILS WIN SAVINGS PRIZE

The children in the school rooms in Granville, taught by Miss Eunice Billingsley, Mrs. Eva Williams, and Miss Mamie Shaffer have won prizes offered by the Standard Savings System of Pittsburgh, for schools having the highest percentage of deposits for a period of 20 weeks.

The contest came to a close last week and the prizes were awarded as follows: All children of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades won. Miss Billingsley's room $4; Miss Williams' room, $4; and Mrs. Shaffer's room, $3.

The winning means that every week for twenty weeks, every child in the three rooms made a deposit of some amount.

A banquet had been arranged for the winning rooms, to take place at the end of the contest, but owing to the end of school being so near, the feed will be combined with a picnic which will be held at the close of school.

STRIKE CALLS TO 12,000 MINERS ISSUED TODAY

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 16.—Strike calls to 12,000 miners of the Lehigh Valley Coal company were issued today following a meeting of the general grievance committee when it was reported that all attempts to negotiate grievance with company officials had failed.

Practically every colliery of the company was idle today as early reports indicated that most of the men answered the strike call promptly. The main grievance was over yardage at the William A. Colliery where the men have been out a week.

District officials of the U. M. W. will attend another meeting of the grievance committee late this afternoon in an effort to reach some agreement. The company refused to discuss the grievances as long as the men were on strike.

Slovan Man Is Shot In A Quarrel

Joe Kuleri, single, aged about 40 years, a laborer, of Slovan, is in the West Penn hospital, Pittsburgh, with a gunshot wound through his body just below the heart. The West Penn hospital said last night the wound was a serious one. The [illegible] or while leaving the house of Ralph Delrocco at Slovan.

There are conflicting stories about the wounding. Ralph Delrocco, at whose home the trouble occurred, his brother, Andy Delrocco and Jacob Gismonde, were lodged in jail yesterday by Constable James E. Adams, of Smith township, being committed by Squire Harry Tennyson, of Slovan, on a charge of felonious assault and battery with intent to kill. They will be held awaiting the outcome of Kuleri's wound.

The story that the men under arrest tell is that Kuleri, who had been at the Ralph Delrocco house, had had some trouble with Jacob Gismonde, one of the men under arrest, and that about 11 o'clock at night Kuleri had pulled a gun and had threatened to shoot Gismonde. It was following that the prisoners say, that Ralph Delrocco took the gun away from Kuleri and shot Kuleri. Ralph Delrocco admitted before the justice of the peace, it is said that he had shot Kuleri.

Kuleri's story was that he was shot without any chance to defend himself. He admits he was at the Delrocco house during the evening. However, when he was shot, he said, he had left the house, and as he was leaving this shot was fired. He denies having any trouble with the men in the house who, he says, were his friends.

Eighteen Hundred Boys Traverse The Streets In Boys' Week Here

Imposing and approaching the recal in magnificence, the parade of 1800 boys, Charleroi, North Charleroi, Allenport, Speers, and Dunlevy inclusive, through the principal business and residence streets of the borough last night, was one of the fitting climaxes to the most successful week ever held in Charleroi in honor of the Boys.

Each boy carried a flag and as the concourse passed through the town, they were the subject of much favorable comment and applause. The parade was reviewed by borough officials and school boards of Charleroi and currounding towns as it passed the review stands at the Elks club.

The seven Boy Scout troops of Charleroi, and a troop from Rosedale headed by the Monessen American Legion Troop band, under command of Walter H. Fielding, scoutmaster, paraded with the boys from the grade schools and High school of the borough, North Charleroi, and students of other towns.

E. W. Patton was chief marshal, and he was assisted by Guy Woodward, Bannister Roberts, Charles Fiedler, Griffith Nichols, John Clutter, Carroll Gaut, Henry Highfield, Michael Lombardo, L. H. Woods, Raymond Pardiny, Joe Tuccelli and Dr. Paul Trnavsky.

The parade which started at First street and McKean avenue, was terminated at the Pennsylvania Railroad station, where a committee served the boys ice cream, pop, and "hot dogs." Every boy participating in the parade was given a ticket to one of the three theatre in the borough this afternoon.

DeMarco Outboxes Rini In 10 Rounds; In Tube City Ring

Cuddy DeMarco again proved his class by beating Johnny Rini of Cleveland in the falling of the curtain on the boxing season at McKeesport last night.

Johnny Rini in company with "Parson" McGinty, dropped off at the main stop on the B. & O. long enough to collect several hundred kopecs and demonstrate that an ex-amateur can still be an amateur when it comes to main bouting in this district.

The bout while not exactly pleasing was not up to expectations and the fans a few hundred in number were not entirely pleased with the result. DeMarco evidently under wraps for future engagements did very little aggressive fighting to which local ring followers are accustomed, but seemed content to outbox the Cleveland ex-amateur through the early rounds and then when Rini opened up with a bit of roughing in the last rounds the Charleroi boy did likewise. Rini who went to McKeesport with McGinty did not show enough to warrant being a main bouter but being on the same order as DeMarco, a boxer, it made the bout look slow.

The only bit of excitement was forthcoming in the seventh and ninth rounds when Rini tore loose with a bit of glove swinging that immediately sent Cuddy into action but the damage was slight in both rounds though many fans thought that the worst Rini deserved was a draw, but the judges verdict at the finish in favor of DeMarco was a just decision for Cuddy earned the edge by his clever boxing, which Rini found hard to solve. It was just a case of DeMarco going along and going just a bit better than the good looking chap from Cleveland.

Met Misfortune With True American Spirit

They had shut off the largest oil well in America three days before. There were not enough pipe lines to handle the flow. It had filled a 1,000-barrel tank in 20 minutes; then, to prove that its performance was no flush production freak, had filled three more tanks in exactly one hour. When we arrived the monster was still, but preparations were being made to open it up, writes Max Bently in Harper's.

They opened it up cautiously when they were ready. They thought they were ready. The driller waved an imperious signal. The chief roughneck on the rig swung a lever.

"Stand back, everybody!"

Gas, faintly blue and transparent, sprayed thinly from the flow pipe. With an ear-filling roar the oil came. A six-inch stream shot from the pipe against the splash box. The pipe trembled, buckled, reared backward. Then as we looked, rooted to the spot, came disaster. The top of the well blew off. Through every obstacle that man had assembled the ruthless monster tore its way to freedom. A jet-black stream leaped cleanly upward until it attained a height of 200 feet. As the oil began falling the deep green of the pine trees was blotted away. On the instant they were turned a greasy black and their befouled branches literally rained oil.

The owner of the largest oil well in America had watched the proceedings from a ... closely in his saddle, hat pulled down, he had idly overseen the preparations. It meant a lot to him to save that well, but he gave no sign. He could only lose; it is to his everlasting credit that, losing, he lost cleanly and gamely.

William Conquest so loves his two mules that he keeps them in the cellar of his house at Queens boulevard and Tremble street, Winfield, Queens and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to ... 's worried about them so that ... was taken before Magistrate Doyle in the Flushing court, says the New York Herald-Tribune L. Ray, an officer of the society, said that somewhere in the case there was undoubted... ity to animals, but Conquest ...

"They are nice mules" ... d "and they have a good time in the cellar. They like to stay there. Every time I put them in the stable they are uncomfortable, and as soon as I leave the door open they go back to the cellar."

"Why not put them in your dining room?" asked the magistrate.

"Well, I might," said Conquest. "They're nice mules. But they prefer the cellar."

"But the officer says their health is endangered" said the magistrate.

"You can't hurt a mule," said Conquest. "They're jus' mules. They haven't any health. Mules don't get sick. They're just mules until they die."

As no evidence was offered to show that the mules were other than frisky and happy, the magistrate dismissed the charge. He directed the officer, however, to keep an eye on the mules and see how they were treated.

"The object of my course is to bring about happy marriages, and I have been very successful, indeed. I point out the reefs on which the marriages are often wrecked.

"A man," Mrs Cabot went on, "said to a group of women at a tea:

"'Before I was married I could never save a cent.'

"The women above their teacups exchanged triumphant smiles.

"'I managed to keep out of debt, though,' the man added."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Operating without human control, halting while minor difficulties are adjusted, and stopping altogether if something goes seriously wrong, a new electric power station at Searsburg, Vt., embodies astonishing mechanical intelligence, says Popular Science Monthly.

The turbine starts when sufficient water arrives, and shuts down when the flow falls below an efficient limit.

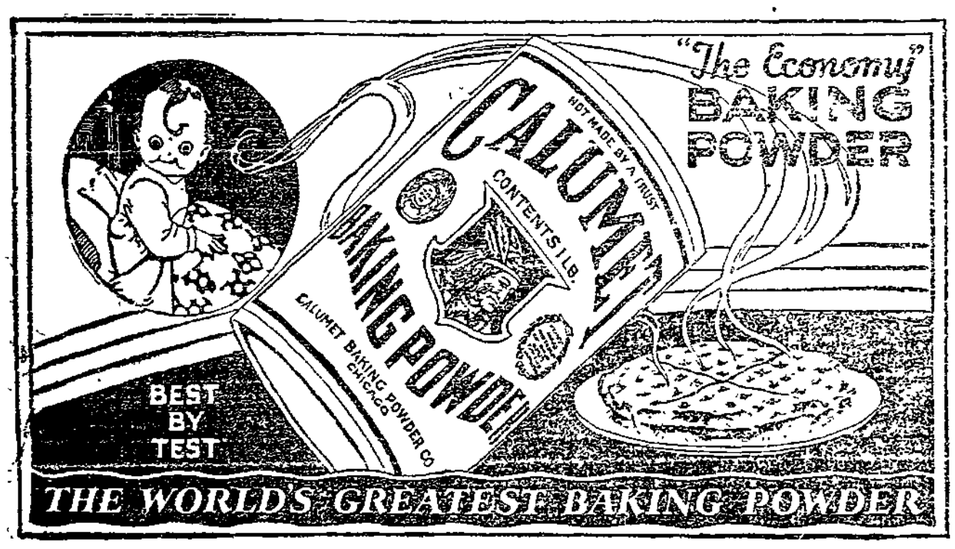
Calumet Baking Powder is called "Best by Test" because actual baking tests are made right in the big Calumet factories—the largest of their kind on earth. Master bakers and a renowned domestic science expert make these tests which protect the quality and uniformity of Calumet.

Calumet is called "the World's Greatest Baking Powder" because it is used by more housewives—more chefs—more railroads—more restaurants—more hotels than any other brand.



Calumet is called the "Economy Baking Powder" because no other brand on the market will produce bakings at such a low cost. Its dependable and unfailing action means no loss of time, money or materials.

Calumet is called for in thousands of stores daily because a better leavener cannot—and is not made—because a large can contains full 16 ounces and some brands come in 12 ounce cans—once tried it is always used.

Jane Seymour's Ghost Haunts Hampton Court

In a recent article by Alberic Cahuet on "The Ghosts of Fontainebleau," published in L'Illustration (Paris), according to a translation in the Kansas City Star, the writer said:

"In England, at Hampton Court, it is admitted that Jane Seymour, third wife of Henry VIII, comes back in the dead of night to wander through the corridors. Her ghost—a wraith with disheveled hair outlined in white light—has been seen, it is declared, on the little stairway which leads to the private apartment once occupied by the young queen. It is even claimed that the apparition has been photographed—witness the souvenir postcards sold by the caretaker at the castle."

It is frankly admitted that the postcard is intended simply to show what Jane's wraith looks like when it is photographed.

It will be remembered that Jane Seymour, Henry VIII's third wife, was married by this Bluebeard monarch the day after the execution of his second wife, Anne Boleyn, in May, 1536. Jane Seymour was then barely twenty years old. Hampton Court is one of the largest of the royal palaces of England, is of brick with crenellated walls, and was built by Cardinal Wolsey in 1515 as a gift to Henry VIII. More than eight hundred of the thousand-odd rooms are today occupied by members of the British aristocracy who are lodged there gratuitously by the crown. It would appear from this that if the ghost of poor Jane Seymour still haunts the corridors of Hampton Court it runs the risk of encountering plenty of living persons.

Chewing Gum Industry Demands Lots of Mint

Gum-chewers have so increased in numbers that the demand for flavoring extract for the gum results in a constantly increasing price therefor. The acreage in the production of the plant in two Michigan counties exceeds 4,000 acres.

Peppermint as a flavor is today in great demand everywhere. The peppermint men say this is largely owing to its use in the manufacture of chewing gum. Oil of peppermint is now also employed to test steam boilers. If the odor of the oil escapes it indicates that the boiler is unsafe. A boiler that will hold the smell of the oil is said to be capable of holding any pressure to which it is ordinarily subjected.

Peppermint is raised on marsh land formerly given over entirely to the production of hay. This land, formerly worth from $1 to $10 an acre, now brings $100 to $200 an acre. The land is used over and over again for the same kind of a crop without rotation, though muriated potash is employed to maintain the soil in the desired state of fertility. In September the crop is cut with a mowing machine.

His Mistake

A magnificently attired washerwoman drove up in her limousine and delivered to a young professional man his weekly wash. He examined it, and then said, timidly:

"Excuse me, madam, but I'm afraid you've made a mistake, I gave you my shirt and, instead, you've brought me these very dilapidated old handkerchiefs."

The washerwoman looked into the parcel angrily.

"Pshaw!" she sniffed. "Them ain't handkerchiefs—them's your shirt."

Rescuing the Oldest Bible

The modern art of the camera has come to rescue the oldest known Bible from the inevitable deterioration of the years. Portions of this Bible belonging to the University of Michigan are being photographed, partly to preserve the disintegrating fragments and partly to put the fading papyrus in a substantial form available for study. Only two professors have access to the fragments. One of them, Doctor Sanders, spent eighteen days piecing together one of the pages photographed.

Feeds Chickens Before Self

At the recent Country Life conference held in St. Louis a moving picture film was shown of a farm boy and his prize flock of chickens. The birds were fine because the boy had a scientific knowledge of chicken culture and had applied his knowledge to the care of his flock. But the boy was a mouth breather and showed further effects of malnutrition. The chickens were better cared for than the boy.

Old French Farming Families

The Merite Agricole is to be conferred on French families that have tilled the same soil for three centuries. There are 750 such families in France. One family has held the same land since the reign of Charlemagne. Another family at Colombes, near Gap, has worked its farm for 1,000 years.

AIR OF PATRIOTISM.

General Gage said after the American boys waited on him, in complaint, in Boston, after the British troops had repeatedly broken down their snowhouses, "Go, my brave boys, if my troops break down your snowhouses again, they shall be punished;" and further, "those boys exude patriotism from the very air they breathe."

The parade of the boys here last night truly exemplified the patriotic spirit which dominates the youth of the community. The encouragement of that patriotism on the part of people, fraternal and civic societies is to be commended, for soon these boys are to take our places and carry on.

RICH GERMANS CROWD ITALY.

Numerous American travelers having reported the hotels and railways of Italy as filled with Germans, all spending money lavishly at a time when the people of the United States are urged to contribute money for destitute children in Germany, one American, B. S. Comstock of Princeton, came forward "in the interest of justice" with the explanation that German-speaking persons in Italy—Viennese, German-Swiss and often Hollanders—are mistaken by American travelers for Germans, who are in fact much less numerous in Italy than is supposed. In response to this defense Charles R. Williams of Cromwell, Conn., who says he has spent many years in Italy, gives official figures in the New York Times to show that the popular impression has ample basis—as follows:

"The day after our Congress voted $10,000,000 to 'starving babies' the Corriere della Sera, Italy's leading newspaper, stated editorially there were 70,000 Germany in Italy that day. As every stranger arriving is immediately reported to police headquarters of whatever city or town he goes to, with a card giving his vital statistics over his own signature, these figures are given out weekly and are not only authoritative but accurate. In Naples an officer of the Society of Hotel Keepers told me the daily expenditure of the 5,000 Germans in Naples at that time averaged 500 lire per person—about $22.50—and during five weeks at the Hotel Excelsior I saw nearly every German paying out American banknotes with a liberality and bravado quite new in that race. Hindenburg's nephew addressed a group of English-speaking tourists on the Capri boat so that he could inform them that the whole talk of poverty in Germany was camouflage 'to fool the world.' For the first time in a long life I saw thousand dollar bank notes flashed like one-dollar bills, and know of one which was a clever counterfeit 'made in Germany,' and was told by an American government official that there were many in circulation in Italy. I also write you in the interests of justice."

Navajo Monument in Northwestern Arizona

The Navajo national monument is within the great and little known Navajo Indian reservation in northeastern Arizona. It comprises tracts of land, each of which contains the ruins of a remarkable prehistoric cave pueblo or cliff dwelling in a good state of preservation. These are known as Betatakin (the Navajo name of such a hill house), Kitsil (meaning broken pottery) and inscription house. The latter ruin derives its name from an inscription scratched into the clay plaster of a wall. It reads: "S-napeiro Ano-Dom 1661."

Betatakin is situated at an elevation of 7,000 feet in a great cave 450 feet long, with a maximum depth of 350 feet, in the side of a soft, red sandstone cliff, which forms the walls of a most picturesque and beautiful canyon, says the Detroit News. The cave roof projects far out over the village, which originally contained 120 rooms and occupied every foot of building space, but is so high that swirling storms have caused shrubbery to grow up to the very foundations of the ancient homes.

Kitsil is the largest of the cave pueblos and is appropriately named, as the open spaces between the apartments are strewn with broken pottery of the finest type produced by the ancient cliff dwellers. The village completely fills a cave 350 feet long and 50 feet deep. There are 148 rooms in all. Similar circular ceremonial chambers or kivas at the front of the cave and below the level of its floor indicate that the tribe occupying it was different from the clan that lived at Betatakin, as in the latter there are no rooms of this type. Kitsil is situated in a wooded canyon, the walls of which are warmly colored.

THE OFFICE CAT

"This is the end" said the cow-puncher, as he grabbed the steer's tail.

A contemporary tells of a reader who has been having milk stolen from one of the cows on his farm. Recently the farmer substituted a gay old mule for the cow and the next morning a battered hat and tin pail were found. The milk thief hasn't come back for them, chuckles the farmer, and ye editor thinks maybe it's because he hasn't lit yet.

Winter Wheat in France

If experiments now being made in Brittany are satisfactory France will soon be growing American wheat. Brittany one of the important wheat growing districts of France, needs hardier and sturdier wheat. The crops there, as in a good many parts of the country, are poor and with the co-operation of the French government officials, experiments have been made in testing samples of Turkey Winter Wheat. These samples, supplied by the United States Department of Agriculture, were from the state of Washington, which has about the same climate as Brittany.

Short and Sweet

The talk had turned on the subject of theatrical first nights and speeches at the fall of the curtain.

"I have had four plays produced," a playwright exclaimed, "and when I say authors should not make speeches I know what I am talking about. But if you must speak, let your speech be as short as possible. I only once made a speech during those four [illegible] table occasions, and it contained four words."

"What were they?" he was asked.

"'And boo to you,'" he replied.

Skirts Constitute Real Peril to Their Wearers

"Safety first" may mean knickerbockers for women. On the other hand, it may merely mean asbestos skirts. Burns kill more women than men. Skirts are the reason. Don't you believe it? Then listen. Why is it that during the first three years of life more boys die of burns than girls, while with the fourth year the scale turns sharply?

Isn't it because the boys about the time they are three or four drop the garb of femininity and blossom out into their first knee pants? Figures for the United States registration area covering a period of twenty-one years, show that in the fourth year of life the relatively high death rate from burns among girls begins. After that the fatal skirts and frilly waists which girls and women affect play their incendiary role, while the somber, sensible habiliments of masculinity protect their brothers from peril.

Burns, not fires in the sense of conflagrations or house and factory burnings, but just plain burns and scalds, are the only kind of accidents which number the majority of their victims among the weaker sex. Three out of every five deaths from burns are deaths of women and girls. If this happened for a single year it might be considered a mere matter of chance. But the mortality figures show that the ratio has continued constant over a long period.—New York Sun.

Hawaiian Gods Punish Desecrators of Temple

The gods of ancient Hawaii have wreaked their vengeance upon the whites who made merry upon the site of a former heiau, or oldtime temple of worship, according to Hawaiian superstition.

The flames, caused by defective cooking [illegible], set fire to a series of unfortunate events, including much that occurred at the site of the ancient temple, ruined hostess at the Elks' Hotel Royal Hawaiian, says a Honolulu correspondent of the New York World. According to Hawaiian lore, the fire only evil will come to the site of desecrate the site of an ancient heiau.

The clubhouse was built many years ago by the late James B. Castle, a descendant of the missionaries who came from New England to the islands in 1820, as a residence for his family. During the occupancy of the Castle family two Japanese were murdered in the grounds and attention was called at that time to the tradition of the heiau.

Suited the President

Perhaps [illegible] Coolidge is trying in vain conditions to furnish good copy. Here is the latest:

[illegible] persons possessed a newspaper editor's interest in Mr. Coolidge. After carrying on a one-sided conversation for a while he began to grow restless under the President's monosyllables. "Mr. President," he said, "I think it is time I was giving some one else the opportunity to talk with you; I'll better move on."

Without turning his head the President in an undertone commended:

"Stay where you are!" Having got used to his conversational partner he had no intention of backing in another.—Portland Oregonian.

Ice Statue Gigantic

The height of the Goddess of Liberty is 151 feet; 151.11 feet to the extremity of the torch. The figure of General Lee on Stone Mountain is to be 149 feet from the top of his hat to the bottom of the horse's hoofs. It is said that a man standing on the general's shoulder would need a step-ladder to reach his ear. The sculptor says: "The distance from the horse's knee to the top of General Lee's hat is 120 feet. The depth of the relief on the extreme point will be about 20 feet, while the average depth of stone to be removed over the whole surface—3 acres—will be about 4 feet."

Missing the Sights

Senator Underwood said in a discussion of spiritualism at a dinner party:

"There is one sure thing about the spirits raised by Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle—they talk in a light way about heaven.

"The details that these spirits give us remind me of the little girl who, rummaging in a drawer, exclaimed:

"'There! Grandma's gone to Heaven without her spectacles!'"—Los Angeles Times.

Baked Peas Good, but Can't Supersede Beans

I like baked peas; we have them once a month, says Arthur Staples, in the Lewiston (Me.) Journal. They are not so good as baked beans that you can eat twenty times a month and have brand new four times a month in a bean pot all your own. We are not raising good baked-bean experts nowadays. They must use reasonably new beans—old beans are not so good—and they ought to be baked until they just about burst their sides with richness.

I like to see them roll out so that they gleam in the candlelight like rubies on a string. They ought to swim about like bubbles in the golden fatness, and the pork ought to look like the covers of an old book, ruddy-brown and aged with beauty.

Baked peas are done exactly like baked beans, pork and all, baked in the pot and brown as berries—though just which berry is "brown" is difficult to say.

There is another dish that my mother used to make. She used to take apples and peel, quarter and core them, put in a certain amount of brown sugar and some other things and put the whole in a bean pot. Bake them in a slow oven. She used to bake them in the old brick oven with its slowing heat that lasted for many hours. When they come out they are like a jelly. The substance is as red as the cheek of a Baldwin. My wife good as it used to be.

New Process Hastens Marketing of Oranges

An orange may be inwardly ripe when outwardly green, and if allowed to yellow on the trees the marketing [illegible] four to six weeks and consequently a less favorable price may be obtained.

This green condition gives the satsuma orange grower more concern than others. Satsumas are raised in upper Florida, lower Alabama and lower Mississippi. Normally they are gathered about October 15, but they can be harvested earlier when artificial processes of coloring are used to get away from the persistent greenness of skin.

The United States Department of Agriculture has worked out a process for coloring oranges without harming the fruit, says the Scientific American. The process consists of inclosing the oranges in airtight rooms and subjecting them to fumes of kerosene stoves or to gasoline engine exhaust. The fumes given off destroy the green chlorophyll so that the yellow of the orange shows up.

It requires about four days to bring out the yellow of the oranges by this process. This is better than waiting four or six weeks for the fruit to ripen on the trees, running the risk of frost or storm damage and facing the probability of a lower market when the oranges are ultimately harvested.

Nile Irrigation

The phenomenon of the overflowing of the Nile occurs regularly every year, and lasts from the 15th of June to the 15th of September. After this period the river gradually subsides, leaving a rich alluvial deposit for some six miles on each side of the stream. A rise of 16 cubits is necessary to furnish the proper irrigation. An excessive rise of the river means great loss of crops and property, and sometimes of human life; while the failure of a few feet may occasion almost as great a famine during the ensuing year. In 1826 the Nile rose 26 cubits and caused the death of 30,000 persons by drowning, as well as the destruction of a great amount of property. The average rise at Thebes is 40 feet; at Cairo, 27 feet.—Kansas City Star.

Belgian Education

To train Belgian young men for service in the Congo as physicians, technical men and administrative officers a "Colonial university" has been established at Antwerp by the Belgian government. This university has been developed through the successful work of a high school of commerce, which was founded two years ago by the commission for relief in Belgium and the city of Antwerp, to train boys for colonial service. This school was converted into a university last November and it is now known as "L'Universite Coloniale." It has three schools devoted respectively to political and administrative science, tropical medicine and natural sciences.—School Life.

Herons Prey on Trout

Many trout in the Musselshell region of Montana have been destroyed by the blue heron, which stands in the riffles of a stream and spears fish all day long, according to J. B. Bonham, forest ranger. He recommends the killing of herons to preserve the trout.

The destruction of trout by the blue heron also was called to the attention of Minnesota sportsmen last summer. Conservationists, however, are not unanimous in their approval of an "open season" on blue heron, and the birds are protected by law.

Consumption of Copper

World consumption of copper for eight months last year gave an estimated annual rate of 2,750,000,000 pounds.

...ownsville Man Recovers From Serious Illness

...C. Reasey, Well-Known Fraternal Order and Railroad Man, Sick for Twelve Years Makes Complete Recovery

Mr. E. C. Reasey, popular fraternal order and railroad man, is receiving congratulations of his friends upon his restoration to health after an illness of nearly twelve years, following an operation for peritonitis.

Mr. Reasey has some very definite ideas as to what has caused his remarkable recovery, and says that he welcomes this opportunity to tell the public the facts in the case. He had been in mighty bad shape for years nothing that he ate agreed with him. Every full meal was followed by nervous headaches caused by a disordered stomach. He was forced to the daily use of pills and cathartics.

But read what he has to say:

"I have tried all kinds of medicines and nothing seemed to do me any good until I tried Sulac. The very first bottle helped me and so far I have taken four bottles and am on my feet. I am glad of this opportunity to tell my friends, and in fact everybody, that Sulac has not only stopped my trouble, but has given me an appetite I can hardly satisfy. And the best of it is that I have gained fifteen pounds. My color is fine; and when I get through eating I feel like I can eat. I have my old pep back and when it comes to work I'll step right to it with any of them. I feel great all the time. I will be glad to verify this if anyone wants to write me at the Y. M. C. A., Brownsville."

Mr. Reasey is the kind of man whose word carries weight. He belongs to K. of P. No. 60. Cumberland, Md.; F. O. O. F., No. 56. Cumberland; Jr. O. U. A. M., Altoona; Loyal Order of Moose, No. 74, Altoona. If you are suffering from any form of stomach trouble are bilious, have chronic constipation; are in distress after eating, go to your druggist and get a bottle of the remedy that did so much for him. It is sold under a positive guarantee. If you take six bottles and are not satisfied with the results your druggist is authorized by the manufacturers to refund your money. Sulac is sold in Charleroi by Hennings Drug Store.

GET AT THE CAUSE!

Many Charleroi Folks Are Showing How to Avoid Needless Suffering.

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Charleroi people. Profit by this Charleroi resident's experience.

Geo. Gunderman, 303 Washington Ave., says: "I had an attack of kidney disorder and my back was lame and sore. When I bent, sharp darting pains ran through my kidneys. After sitting I could hardly get up. My muscles were stiff and sore mornings and my back was lame and weak been troubled since."

Meaning of "Tao"

Authorities differ concerning the interpretation of the word "tao." Broadly speaking, it may be defined as the proper, the right road, a conduct of life designed to give the greatest individual happiness. Taoism is a system of philosophy whose greatest exponent was Lao-tse, who embodies his teachings in a book "Tao-teh-king," supposed to have been written shortly before he went into retirement. He taught that contemplation, reason, avoidance of force and disregard of mere ceremonies are the means of regeneration.

LADY MAY BE NAMED AS THE STATE LIBRARIAN

Harrisburg, Pa., May 16.—Dr. J. George Becht, superintendent of public instruction, was to name a successor today to Dr. George P. Donehoo, who relinquished his post of state librarian yesterday after five months effort to oust him from office.

Gov. Pinchot appointed Miss Anna A. Macdonald acting librarian at the time he requested Dr. Donehoo's resignation which was refused.

Dr. Becht has given no intimation who he will apoint to the post although it was believed he would ask Miss Macdonald to take charge in view of her endorsement by the governor.

Dr. Donehoo said today he had no idea who was expected to assume charge of the library and in the absence of a definite successor he has turned over the department to Norman D. Gray, deputy state librarian.

"I have received hundreds of telegrams from my friends in the western part of the state and some of them would make inteesting reading" Dr. Donehoo declared.

His plans for the present call for completion of [illegible] here, he said.

Navy Needs 65,000 Men

To keep the American navy up to the 86,000 men authorized under the naval appropriation bill 65,000 men will have to enlist or re-enlist during the coming year.

Furs Fascinate Women

From the earliest times furs have had a remarkable fascination for women. The women of ancient Greece, Rome and Assyria all made lavish use of furs.

Oxygen Blowpipe Used for Breaking Up Metal

The breaking up of large, solid masses of iron or steel, for the purpose of remelting, has heretofore been such a slow and costly operation as to be seldom indulged in, and many blocks of metal of this kind have therefore been abandoned as worse than worthless. The oxygen blowpipe, a cheap and simple apparatus and quick in operation, has wonderfully changed all this, says the Compressed Air magazine.

For example, we can have a cylindrical mass of metal, technically known as a "ladle set," more than six feet in diameter, of equal length, and weighing more than forty-five tons. A most hopeless case. A long piece of one-quarter-inch iron pipe is connected by flexible hose with a "bottle" of oxygen. The free end of the pipe is made red hot and the oxygen slowly and carefully turned on. The end of the pipe begins to burn with intense heat and when thrust against the block it begins to bore a hole right into the mass to a depth of three feet or more. The hole will be, say, an inch in diameter, and the molten metal will flow out of it in a little stream. In this way a considerable number of holes are quickly burned. These are charged with gelignite and fired all at once after the block has been placed in a special pit.

This is obtained [illegible] that are generally as small as required.

American Girls Easily Best Dancers in World

"The American girl makes the best dancer in the world, bar none."

That is the sweeping statement made by Miss Fawn Gray of New York, herself a dancer, who has just completed a "round-the-world" trip, during which she studied dancing in various cities, according to the New York World.

"Next to the American girl comes the English girl for all-around dancing," continued Miss Gray. "I danced in London, in Paris, at Monte Carlo and at Deauville, and, strangely enough, there was more real competition in London than at any other place. In Berlin the girls are a little too stiff for graceful dancing.

"You'd imagine that the French girls would be the most graceful and accomplished in showing off their dresses, wouldn't you? Well, while I was there a competition was held to decide the best manikin in Paris, and it was won by an American girl."

Miss Gray visited Honolulu on her trip, and while there danced Hawaiian dances in competition with real Hawaiians.

"I won all three of the contests in which I took part," she concluded, "so that alone would tend to bear out my contention that the American girl is the best dancer in the world, now wouldn't it?"

Identifying Pictures

French chemists have perfected new methods of identifying pictures, according to the American Chemical society. They use groups of red, blue, green or white light to light the picture, and they examine the suspected canvas with the spectrometer. This puts in relief the retouchings, scrapings and changed signatures which constitute a false picture. By employing the ultra-violet ray they make the zinc white and certain varnishes stand out by fluorescence. By scraping off small amounts of paint they have made spectrographic analysis and have been able to determine, for example, in a fake Reach, the presence of a cadmium yellow, when Renoir only used chrome yellow.

When Asquith Laughed

Mr. Asquith was addressing a political meeting one day when someone in the audience made a very personal remark concerning Mrs. Asquith.

"Who said that?" demanded the speaker angrily.

There was a sudden silence. Then a man in the rear stood up and pointing to a farmer wearing a dilapidated straw hat, shouted: "It was him wi' the coo's breakfast on his head."

The reply was altogether too much for Mr. Asquith, and he had to join in the general roar of laughter.—Boston Transcript.

Ceylon's Tea Exports

Total exports from Ceylon of both black and green tea during 1923 were 183,501,928 pounds, as against 171,302,249 pounds in 1922. The exports were, however, approximately 6,000,000 pounds below the average for the last ten years. The United Kingdom was by far the leading importer of Ceylon tea, taking 121,010,033 pounds in 1923, against 117,281,922 pounds in the previous year. The United States was the second largest purchaser of tea, taking 14,956,508 pounds during 1923, an increase of 750,000 pounds over 1922 imports of Ceylon tea.

Gloves Collected

An American woman of some prominence who is traveling in Europe has started collecting gloves which have been kissed by kings. She herself has been presented on several occasions to kings who have placed the royal and courtly kiss on her gloved fingers. From others who have had similar experiences she will "beg, buy or borrow" the gloves for her collection.

He Helped to Relieve It

[illegible] poverty in Europe?"

"Yes, a great deal. In fact I came home for fear of going broke myself."

AUTO ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

A unique advertising scheme has been launched in this district by S. S. Jones, Monessen, Studebaker agent. He started a new Light Six Studebaker touring car out with a huge glass container filled with gasoline. The container is placed on the hood of the machine in plain view and everybody will have an opportunity to guess just how many miles the machine will travel before the gasoline supply is exhausted. The tank of the car will be disconnected and when the fuel in the container is exhausted, the car will stop and the mileage recorded.

The car started from the display rooms of the Studebaker agency at Ninth and Donner, Monessen and will travel over the entire district including Donora, Charleroi, Monongahela, California, Beallsville and other towns. This will not be continuous drive but merely a record of miles to be covered before the gasoline is exhausted.

Cards can be secured from the car as it travels over the country, permitting anyone to make a guess on the mileage. The person guessing the nearest to the total mileage will be rewarded in being permitted to purchase the car which will be absolutely new at nearly $300 less than the regular selling price.

How They Get In.

Many Europeans and some Chinese have taken advantage of a clause in the immigration restriction act, which provides that any person who has resided for a year in Mexico, Canada, Newfoundland, Cuba or Central or South America, can enter the United States without reference to numerical quotas. Within the last nine months, 4,000 "Mexicans" and 62,000 "Canadians" have crossed the borders into the United States.

Russians Getting Fussy.

The head of an export firm hauled up his junior partner and complained: "Our correspondent in Russia says that soap wrappers and cigarette coupons are no longer going as money."

"Seems to me he is getting very fussy all of a sudden," snorted the junior partner. "What's his kick?"

"Being printed on paper, he claims they lack intrinsic value."

"All right. We'll ship tin tags."

Feil for Three Stories

"Now it's jist like I was a-tellin' ye," said a grizzled old Irishman to a group of workmen. "Once when my gang was helpin' put up a skyscraper I fell fer three stories an' it didn't hurt me narry a bit."

Here the stranger who had paused to listen remonstrated.

"But how could a person fall for three stories and not be hurt?" he sternly inquired.

"Well," replied the veteran, a twinkle creeping into his eye, "you've already fallen fer one, an' I guess fallin' fer two more won't hurt ye."—Everybody's Magazine.

Compromise

There was a rich uncle who wanted the baby named Violet. Aunt Pansy had money, too, and intimated that she would not be displeased to have a namesake. Mother wanted to name the child Lily.

It looked a deadlock. But wise old grandpa came forward with a suggestion that practically accommodated everybody. They named the baby Blossom.

Instrument Measures Crops

A measuring instrument for attaching to an automobile by which the linear measurement of fields in various crops bordering on highways can be easily and quickly made has been devised by the United States Department of Agriculture. Successful experiments have been made with the instrument, which will be used in a number of states during the current year.

To Reclaim Land

The Yellow river, "China's Sorrow," has been dammed by an American engineering corporation. Millions of persons have been drowned by the river's floods and it has changed its course many times in centuries past. The land formerly under water will be reclaimed and power may be developed at the dam.

May Preserve Old Relic

Ft. Cralo, where the British army surgeon, R. Schukbury, wrote "Yankee Doodle" to poke fun at the American colonists, the old historical fort at Rensselaer, N. Y., may be preserved as a revolutionary relic. It was built in 1642.

Fire Revealed Coal Vein

A flash of lightning struck the earth near the foot of a tree in Madison county, Illinois, in 1807, setting it afire. The monks of La Trappe dug below the fire and found a vein of coal, the first in the Northwest territory.

Casing-Head Gas.

Casing-head gas has been made since 1904. An oil which has the faculty of absorbing gasoline from natural gas is sprayed downward through a tall pipe or tower, while the natural gas coming out at the top is practically without gasoline, while the oil at the bottom has absorbed it. Then, by a simple process of distillation, the gasoline is derived from the oil, and the oil goes through the same operation again. A good-sized plant can treat 80,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas this way, and obtain at least 8,000 gallons of gasoline a day.
